YOUTUBE VIDEO FAIR COLLECTION PRACTICES ACT
VIDEO BY LAURA S. MANN FROM MANN LEGAL-MANN LEGAL VIDEO

Page 101

1 client could collect under the Act is $1,000.
 2 JOE JONES: Statutory damages.
 3 AUDIENCE MEMBER: Now, if that's the case,
 4 why would a client sign on with you when he knows
 5 that --
 6 LAURA MANN: Why not? It's $1,000 in their 7 pocket. They win, they get $1,000, or up to $1,000
 8 plus actuals. And we'll get to those remedies a little 9 later in more detail, but it costs them nothing. Why 10 not? It's some found money, plus they might do some 11 good.
 12 JOE JONES: Yeah. When a client comes in 13 with a stack full of letters, and you've given them
 14 $1,000 or $1,500 on a -- you know, through the form of 15 a settlement, a couple of times for them it's like -- I
 16 have a couple of clients, it's almost like an annuity
 17 in their mind. They just bring in letter after letter
 18 after letter. Every time they get a collection letter, 19 they bring it in, and they joke, can you do something?
 20 AUDIENCE MEMBER: And another question is you
 21 stated that you start a lot of these as a class action.
 22 Would you start as a class action if you only had one
 23 client --
 24 JOE JONES: Well, you don't need --
 25 AUDIENCE MEMBER: -- and one letter?

Page 103

1 We have another question over here. While
 2 the microphone is coming that way, I just want to touch 3 on --
 4 JOE JONES: We do have to wrap it up in a
 5 moment.
 6 LAURA MANN: Oh, five minutes?
 7 JOE JONES: We'll a little behind, but 8 we're --
 9 LAURA MANN: Time just flew now, didn't it?
 10 Go ahead.
 11 AUDIENCE MEMBER: In the context of 12 commercial collection, like if you're a small business,
 13 it is just the wild west? I mean, this -- obviously 14 it's not -- it doesn't -- it's not covered?
 15 JOE JONES: It's a lot more wild than the 16 consumer collection arena.
 17 LAURA MANN: I'm just going to quickly touch
 18 on remedies because we -- did we get a five-minute
 19 warning? Okay.
 20 So very quickly on remedies with damages.
 21 Statutory damages up to $1,000 per violation per case
 22 actually. So if you find one letter that contains 23 three violations, that's not $3,000.
 24 JOE JONES: Yeah, that's 1,000.
 25 LAURA MANN: It's up to 1,000. And if it

1 JOE JONES: The question is would you bring 2 it as a class action lawsuit if you only have one
 3 plaintiff. Okay? All you need to start a class action
 4 lawsuit is one plaintiff. Okay? You're bringing the 5 class action on behalf of that plaintiff and everybody
 6 else similarly situated. Now, I'm not advocating that 7 you go out there and you just file the big -- every 8 case is a class action. You have to believe that it's 9 a class action. Okay?
 10 You've got to have a basis for that belief,
 11 and I add my belief usually is, when I bring a class
 12 action, is if I'm looking at the letter and it's a form 13 letter, okay, and it wasn't uniquely drafted for my 14 client, chances are that violation is in hundreds of 15 letters. Numerosity is really -- very rarely is a 16 problem in the FDCPA arena for class certification.
 17 It's more of does the -- is the plaintiff going to be a
 18 proper class representative.
 19 LAURA MANN: Yeah. Basically what I look at 20 is, is the violation that you're going after or one of 21 the violations that you're going after on behalf of 22 that client something that would be common among many 23 people. If it was a mathematical error, probably not.
 24 But if it's a failure to include G notice language on a
 25 form letter, most -- almost definitely.

1 goes to trial, the Court could award less than the full
 2 $1,000, but it's one violation. But if you've got one
 3 client that has a letter from Pressler, a letter from 4 Lyons, and a letter from Midland, whatever, those could 5 be three separate lawsuits and that could be $3,000.
 6 This is what's called a fee-shifting statute.
 7 So your -- I'm sorry, back to the damages for 8 the client, statutory up to 1,000 per case, and actual 9 damages, rarely in my experience are there actual 10 damages, but it does happen.
 11 JOE JONES: You have to prove it. I mean,
 12 you've got to prove actual damages.
 13 LAURA MANN: So you want to look at that. A
 14 fee-shifting statute, you can get your attorneys' fees,
 15 and in a successful lawsuit, you should get your fees
 16 paid by the other side. So -- and that's, you know, 17 when you settle it, or successfully, you know, win at 18 trial, you will get your fees.
 19 So you've got to keep track of your time by 20 your normal hourly rate. You spent 50 hours on the 21 case; you charge three, four hundred dollars an hour,
 22 that's what you should recover. You know, the judges 23 sometimes tweak it and whatever, but that's -- you get 24 paid from the other side in the successful litigation,
 25 and that's something you want to negotiate in a
